

This half term we have been studying Charles Darwin. He drew some amazing botanical drawings from his adventures in the Galapagos, so we decided to create our own inspired by him.

This month we also celebrated British Science Week. Our parents had the opportunity to come in and help us create our own Martian creatures.

March

This month was World Book Day! We got to dress up as our favourite book characters and we completed a poem review.

We also dressed up in red for Comic Relief. We got to colour in some pictures and write a funny joke.

We also got to revisit the Barking Food Forest. We got to see some of the flowers we grew and we sowed some more seeds.
